

Hi Jim,

Thanks for the call today. Here is the message to forward to your participants:

Here is your invitation to the Dale Carnegie Experience, on Tuesday, September 15, where we will be showcasing the 9-week, world-renown Dale Carnegie Course: Skills for Success. The course has helped over 8 million people worldwide achieve personal and career goals in 5 key areas:

- Communication
- Human Relations
- Stress Management
- Self-Confidence
- Leadership

Come and experience for yourself what an evening in one of our courses is like for FREE. You'll come away with a set of tools and techniques that you can start applying immediately to build trusting relationships, show up as a leader in your daily interactions, and boost your business results.

We only do this a few times per year! Please feel free to reserve your seat directly on the website and invite anyone in your entourage whom you feel could also benefit from this event:
