

ESTABLISHING AN EQUIVALENCE/NONINFERIORITY TEST IN A TWO-OUTCOME SITUATION

E. T. Jolayemi

University of Ilorin, Ilorin, Nigeria

Email: tejujola@yahoo.co.uk

An alternative to a standard test is assessed in this study to determine its suitability by looking at both the sensitivity and specificity. This is often desirable in many epidemiological or clinical experiments where a standard test may be expensive or would take a long time for the result to be produced.